[NOTE.—Four years were allowed to pass without the issue of a Catalogue. The Institution, however, in the meantime, kept steadily on its way, the attendance at all times being good; but each call for soldiers drew from its classes the more advanced students, and as a consequence, the graduates have been few. Should we include in this Catalogue the names of all of her students who laid aside their books to join the ranks of the army, since the beginning of the great struggle for the Union, Waynesburg College would need no further vindication of her claim to share in the glory with which Northern colleges have covered themselves during the terrible and triumphant conflict. And of the long "starred" list, not a few names would be marked also with "the asterisk of death."]

☞ All the pupils of this department are required to recite one lesson a week in the Scriptures, during the entire course.

☞ In addition to the regular course of study necessary to graduation, all the pupils have the opportunity of studying Music, French, Latin, Greek, &c. Those who complete the SCIENTIFIC COURSE, embracing the higher Mathematics, or the regular COLLEGIATE COURSE, are entitled to the corresponding degree.

THE FEMALE DEPARTMENT is designed to afford young ladies all the advantages of a Female Seminary; while the full Collegiate Course is open to them, without additional expense. In Philosophy, Chemistry, Ancient Languages, and the higher Mathematics, the young ladies are instructed by the Professors in those departments.

GENERAL REMARKS.

LOCATION.

WAYNESBURG is a village of 1200 inhabitants, unsurpassed in healthfulness of location. Free from the excitements and temptations common to towns on the great thoroughfares of travel, it affords a peculiarly favorable retreat for an institution of learning.

CHARACTER OF THE INSTITUTION.

Waynesburg College is not strictly a co-educational school—the Female Department having its own course of study, internal regulations, diploma, and, in the main, its own teachers. While pursuing their own course of study, young ladies have the privilege of entering college classes in such studies as may not be taught in their department, thus enjoying advantages superior to those offered by most female seminaries. The experience of more than ten years impresses the minds of those who have had the care of the Institution, with the conviction, that the association of the sexes in school-life is attended with the most happy effects upon the manners, morals and diligence of the students.

RELIGIOUS INFLUENCE.

Every student is required to attend divine service on the Sabbath, and to observe the day as sacred. The duties of each day are introduced with reading of the Scriptures, singing and prayer, which all the students are required to attend. The chapel being furnished with a school organ, the morning exercises have the attraction of good music.

GOVERNMENT.

The patrons of the Institution are assured that the deepest interest is felt in the moral culture of those who receive intellectual training within its halls. The government is parental, and will be mildly, but strictly, enforced; the design being to secure attention to study, by cultivating in the youthful mind a love for intellectual pursuits, and virtuous habits.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The collegiate year is divided into two terms, of five months each. The first term begins on the third Monday in November; the second, on the third Monday in April.

Anniversary Exercises for this Year.

Baccalaureate Sermon, Sabbath evening, September 10th.

Address before the Literary Societies, by Rev. Alexander Martin, D. D., Wheeling, Va., Tuesday evening, September 12th.

Commencement Exercises, (ladies',) Wednesday evening, September 13th.

Meeting of Alumni Association, and Addresses, Thursday, September 14th.

Commencement Exercises, (gentlemen's,) Thursday evening.
